John Shaw, Director
Paul Simon Public Policy Institute

John Shaw will discuss the perils and possibilities of trying to resurrect the past, drawing from his 25 years as a Washington, D.C.-based journalist and historian. Shaw has chronicled the day to day work of diplomats and senators, and has also written extensively on historical figures such as Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy.
